

Expand Your Horizons

Last year, over 600 girls from around northern Utah attended the non-profit Expanding Your Horizons conference at Mt. Ogden Jr. High to help increase their interest in math, science and technology. The Ogden 2009 EYH conference is a one-day event where girls from grades 6 to 9 can learn about technology careers and how fun math and science can be.

Girls have the opportunity to:

- Attend workshops taught by women in science and technology fields
- Discover what it's like to be a vet, a pharmacist or even a rocket scientist
- Experience the fun of hands-on learning—design, build, measure, mix, launch, test, laugh and learn
- Attend a keynote session with a noted woman professional

Parents can attend a one-hour session, at no cost, to learn what they need to do now to help their daughters plan for a career, college and financial aid.

Date: Saturday, November 7, 2009 (pre-registration required)

Time: 8 a.m. to 2 p.m.
